

The background is an illuminated manuscript page. At the top, there are two decorative borders: the left one features a repeating pattern of interlocking circles in white and gold, while the right one has a floral motif in shades of pink, orange, and gold. The central figure is a scholar with curly hair, wearing a pinkish-red robe, seated and holding a large, open book. The book's pages are filled with Latin text, including 'liber', 'genera', 'tropis', 'filice', 'mici', 'pili', 'cabrae', and 'h am'. To the right of the scholar, a golden chalice or vessel hangs from a chain. The bottom of the page shows the scholar's hands and the base of a golden column or pedestal. The entire scene is rendered in a classic medieval manuscript style with bold outlines and flat colors.
