

The background of the cover is a dark, textured orange. A large, dark, curved shape, possibly a wing or a branch, sweeps across the upper half. In the center, there is a large, oval, mirror-like frame. Inside this frame, a woman with long dark hair and a pale, ghostly face is depicted. She is wearing a light-colored, flowing dress. To her right, a dark, shadowy figure is visible, holding a long, thin object that looks like a sword or a staff. The overall style is reminiscent of classic horror or pulp magazine illustrations.
