

The book cover features a central teal-colored panel with a dark, octagonal border. The background of the entire cover is a complex, dark grey and black illustration of a steampunk mechanical world, filled with numerous brass gears of various sizes, some with holes, and intricate piping. The central panel has a circular opening at the top with a lens or light source. Below this opening, a dark, bat-like creature with wings spread is perched on a horizontal bar. The word "STEAMPUNK" is written in a gold, serif font above the creature. Below it, the word "POE" is written in a much larger, gold, serif font. At the bottom of the teal panel, there is a small, dark, rectangular vent or grille. In the bottom right corner of the teal panel, there is a small black square logo with the white text "iD" and "LIT" below it.
